BALKAN GROUP SCORED BY UN COMMISSION

Report Holds Greek Neighbors Guilty; Charges Threat To Peace.

By The Associated Press

GENEVA, May 23—The 11-nation Balkans investigation commission today formally signed a report to the United Nations security council, recommending that support of armed bands violating Balkan frontiers should be considered a menace to world peace, subject to action by the UN.

American and Russian sources said there was no formal vote on this conclusion, but that nine nations favored it. Russia and Poland were opposed.

The informants also said that the commission approved 8 to 2 a section blaming Yugoslavia, primarily, for the support of guerrilla warfare in northern Greece, and declaring that Albania and Bulgaria were blameworthy to a lesser degree. Conditions within Greece were declared a contributing factor.

Along with the 251-page final report, terminating their four-month investigation of Greek frontier incidents, the commission members also ordered transmitted to the security council more than 10,000 pages of records and documents relating to the investigation.

UN REPORT HEADS FOR ROUGH SAILING IN COUNCIL

By The Associated Press

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., May 23—The United Nations Balkans investigation commission report signed today in Geneva is headed for rough sailing in the United Nations security council. There is a definite prospect that Soviet Russia might veto any condemnation of her Balkan allies.

Battle lines on the report already have been drawn in the council, where Russia and Poland stand against any moves to condemn Yugoslavia, Albania and Bulgaria in the Balkan border dispute.

The commission is expected to arrive with its mass of documents early in June and the fight will open formally shortly after its arrival.

Defense To Delay Trial Of Ohio Pair for Murder

By The Associated Press

TOLEDO, O., May 23—An effort will be made by the defense to delay until September trial of Harold LeHaney and his wife, Florence, indicted on first degree murder charges in the deaths of James Gleason, 4, and his brother Gerald, 2, children of a war window.

Attorney Edward Walpole said selection of an unprejudiced jury would be impossible at present because of publicity which resulted from the four-week old search for the 41-year-old Toledo couple after James had died while in their care.

TRUMAN ASKS EXPORT CONTROL EXTENSTION

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 23—President Truman today acked congress to extend for a year beyond June 30 his authority to control domestic use and export of a few materials "to prevent harm to our own economy and give concrete support to our foreign policy."

He said in a message it is essential to maintain domestic control, by priority and allocation, over tin, fibers and cordage, anitoxin, cinchona bark, and quinine.

Mr. Truman also asked (1)—export control authority over a few foods—fats and oils and rice and rice products: (2)—import controls and export priorities on nitrogen fertilizer; and (3)—export priorities on key industrial products needed for foreign reconstruction and rehabilitation.

As an adjunct to the domestic controls over tin, cordage, antitoxin and drugs, the president requested continued authority to issue export priorities on materials needed abroad to increase foreign production of items vitally needed in the United States.

Ex-House Officer Given Prison Term

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 23—Kenneth Romney, former house sergeant-at-arms, was sentenced today to serve from one to three years in federal prison on a charge of concealing a $143,863 shortage in his office accounts.

Defense Attorney William H. Collins announced he will take the case to the United States court of appeals. Judge Holtzoff permitted Romney to remain free on $2,500 bond pending this appeal.

Maximum penalty on the charges of which Romney was convicted a week ago could have ranged up to 30 years in prison and a $30,000 fine.

The sentence was imposed in federal district court by Justice Alexander Holtzoff who said he was dealing leniently because the shortage occurred a great many years ago and two other people who apparently had some part in it are beyond the law.

HEARINGS SET FOR 5 WOMEN

Raid Case Scheduled Tuesday; White Slave Suspect Awaits U. S. Marshal.

Hearing in municipal court has been set for next Tuesday morning for five women arrested early Thursday in a raid on a house at 689 Kenton avenue. The raid was staged by three FBI officers and six city police.

The FBI entered the picture in a search for Connie Wilson, alias Judy O'Dare, 25, under federal indictment in Wheeling, W. Va., on a white slave act charge. She was one of six women arrested in the raid and still is being held in the Marion county jail awaiting arrival of a deputy U. S. marshal to take her into custody. Because of the federal charge she will not be charged with an offense in municipal court.

Charges under a city ordinance were filed against the other five women late yesterday afternoon.

They are as follows: Mrs. Grace Pollock, 52, keeping a house of ill fame; Frances Maritn, 29, Joyce Collins, 39, Nickie Sanders, 26, and Jerry Pace, 26, all charged with being inmates of a house of ill fame.

The five were released yesterday morning under bond after spending the night in the city jail. Mrs. Pollock's bond was set at $100 and the others at $35.

Police and court officials said today no charge would be filed against Edwin H. Pollock, husband of Mrs. Grace Pollock. He was taken into custody in the raid and released on $300 bond after being booked at the police station.

Authorities said he had gone to the Kenton avenue house from the Pollock residence on Harding highway East, about a mile from the eastern city limits, to take his wife a box of aspirin when she telephoned, complaining of a headache. He arrived at the Kenton avenue house just as the officers entered to make the raid.

He was permitted to deposit $300 bond for his release when he informed officers he had left the 5-year-old Pollock son alone at the harding Highway residence, expecting to be gone only a few minutes on the aspirin errand.

Also arrested in the raid were four patrons of the house. They entered guilty pleas in municipal court yesterday and were fined $25 and costs each.

G.O.P. SAYS DEMOCRATIC TAX CUT DELAY BLOCKED

Claim Enough Votes To Defeat Move in Showdown Monday.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 23—Republican senate leaders today claimed they have the votes to block a Democratic motion to delay action until June 10 on the $4,000,000,000 income tax reduction bill.

The roll will be called at 3 p. m. Monday under a unanimous consent agreement obtained by Chairman Millikin (R-Colo) of the finance committee.

The Democrats declared their ranks were solid behind the postponement motion offered by Senator George (Ga). But they have only 44 members to the Republicans' 51, and Senator Overton (D-La) and possibly Senator McClellan (D-Ark) are expected to be out of town Monday.

Republican Senator Langer (N.D.) also is away. Neither has publicly claimed the vote.

Millikin and Republican Policy Chief Taft (R-Ohio) told reporters emphatically they feel certain their group will be able to beat the delaying motion.

Ohio Northern Out Of Debt First Time In 76-Year History

Special to The Star

ADA, O., May 23 — Out of debt for the first time in its 76 years of existence, Dr. Robert O. McClure makes this announcement for Ohio Northern university following the payment of the last $1,000 one week ago and $46,800 in the month of April. The occasion will be celebrated with a banquet in the First Methodist church, Ada, Saturday, May 31.

President McClure states that the university now has an unencumbered physical plant valued at more than $1,250,000, a nest-egg endowment of $200,000, a student enrollment of over 1,000 and hundreds of applicants seeking admittance.

A bonded indebtedness of $167,000 has been erased. Several additions to the faculty are still needed and more housing facilities, particularly a dormitory for girls.

President McClure, with the assistance of specialists, will now head a campaign for endowment.

Top Nazi Gestapo Aide Seized by U. S.

By The Associated Press

MUNICH, May 23—Brig. Gen Eric Neumann, principal adjutant to Nazi Gestapo Chieftain Heinrich Himmler, has been captured in Bavaria after a two-year search by American war crimes investigators, it was announced today.

The SS (Elite Guard) general had been one of the most eagerly sought of German fugitives. He had been commander of security police in Holland and Belgium and also was combat commander of Nuernberg.

He now is in custody of American war crimes prosecutors at Regensburg. He was found using an assumed name and working as a farmer near the Austrian border in the neighborhood of Berchtesgaden.

The arrest was made May 9, but not disclosed until today. Neumann was reported to have had Swiss and British money amounting to about $62,500 in his possession when he was caught.

House Committee Asks Big Slash In Agriculture Funds

Halleck Takes Swing at Veto

Republican Leader Says He's Fed Up with Threat of Slapdown.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 23—House Republican Leader Halleck of Indiana took a swing today at talk of veto threats against various big bills.

The Republican congress, he told reporters, intends to "write good bills and send them to the White House" regardless of veto talk.

"To continuously hold up a veto as a threat," Halleck said, "is a usurpation of the legislative prerogatives of congress.

"I don't think that I should run down to the White House on every issue and ask the President what kind of legislation he will take. That would make us another rubber stamp congress such as we had when I first came here (in 1935)."

Admits Truman Silent

President Truman, Halleck conceded, never has said in advance that he would veto a bill unless it were tailored to his orders.

But, the party leader continued, some legislators who seem to think they speak for Mr. Truman have been warning of vetoes of tax, labor, portal to portal pay, wool and other bills.

"They may be bear stories, for all I know," he said. "Maybe they are just yelling 'wolf.' After all, the President signed the portal pay bill.

"So these people may or may not be speaking for the President.

Not Looking For Vetoes

"I'm not looking for vetoes, and I don't think we should look for vetoes."

The Republican leader was still steaming over a skirmish with Rep. McCormack (D-Mass) on the house floor yesterday.

The house was debating a bill designed to assure wool growers that until the end of 1948 they will get at least as high prices as they did in 1946. The bill also would require the President to impose import fees if the tariff commission found foreign wool was hurting the market for domestic wool.

McCormack read from a letter from Undersecretary of State Will Clayton saying that if the import fee provision is accepted "we stand convicted of insincerity" in trade talks with other nations.

Raises Veto Threat

"I don't see how this bill can do other than face a veto unless it is changed," McCormack said.

"The constitution," Halleck shot back, "never intended the veto as a usurpation of legislative power.

"I'll never subscribe to the principle of congress writing just the legislation the President wants and nothing else."

Halleck walked out of the chamber, into a lobby, and told reporters:

"That is something I've been wanting to get off my chest for a long time."

G.O.P. To Cancel Billion Voted By Last Democratic Congress

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 23—Senator Bridges (R-NH) said today Republicans intend to cancel $1,000,000,000 in appropriations voted by the last, Democratic-controlled congress in the G.O.P. drive to cut 1948 federal spending at least $4,500,000,000 below President Truman's estimate.

Bridges, chairman of the senate appropriations committee, told a reporter a $641,822,000 fund transfer the Republicans got through congress yesterday by some fast financial footwork "will help out." But he added the proposed $1,000,000,000 cutback in old appropriations will be needed to make the saving nine senate has pledged.

"I believe we can show a reduction of $4,000,000,000 under the President's $37,000,000,000 figure if we can hold the economy line on Army, Navy, agriculture and other appropriations that are coming along," the New Hampshire senator said.

The old appropriations which the Republicans hope to cut represent money which has been voted but not spent. After the end of May 31, the close of the government's fiscal year, any funds that have been voted with instructions that they be spent by that time will revert to the treasury and then does not always tally with appropriations. This is because congress sometimes spreads the payments over more than one fiscal year.

On this expenditure basis, the Republicans claimed they cut Mr. Truman's budget an additional $[illegible] promptly. At the time congress, without a word of debate, approved a routine deficiency appropriation bill providing $117,000,000 in funds for several government agencies to operate the rest of this year.

WRECKED ARMY PLANE FOUND

Flying Fortress, Missing from Canal Zone Flight, Down in Nicaragua.

By The Associated Press

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., May 23—The wreckage of a flying fortress missing on a flight from the Canal Zone to Kelly field, Texas, has been found in Nicaragua, the Army announced today.

The plane with 15 persons aboard, was located, as a vast search was in progress by the Army and Navy over Central America, the Gulf of Mexico and Caribbean sea.

Morrison field authorities said the notification that the wrecked craft had been found carried no other details.

The missing plane left Howard field, Canal Zone, Wednesday night and was due to arrive at the Texas base at 6 a. m. yesterday. It was last heard from while flying over the Caribbean 20 miles off the Nicaraguyan coast at 12:10 a. m. Thursday.

Eight planes — three of them B-29's—belonging to the Fifth Rescue squadron and the 308th Weather Reconnaisance group were ordered out from Morrison field here today to search the Caribbean from Yucatan to Honduras and Nicaragua.

Twelve additional B-29's left MacDill field, Tampa, to scour the gulf of Mexico from Brownsville to Yucatan. In addition, large fleets of Army and Navy planes from the Canal Zone were thrown into the search.

Trims Budget For Department by 32 Per Cent.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 23 — The house appropriations committee swung its economy axe at the agriculture department today, recommending a 32 per cent budget cut.

In sending to the house floor an $803,143,376 bill to finance the department for the year starting July 1, the committee chopped $383,427,742 from President Truman's budget estimates.

The amount approved is $468,342,475 less than the department had to spend this year. It includes $225,000,000 in loan authorizations and $10,429,710 in permanent appropriations.

The cuts, if upheld by the house after debate next week, will boost to slightly more than $2,000,000,000 the total reductions made by the house in its drive to lop $6,000,000,000 from the President's $37,300,000,000 budget for 1948.

Exclusive of Surprise

This is exclusive of a suprise $642,000,000 "bookkeeping" cut written into a deficiency appropriation bill by the senate appropriations committee and passed by both houses without a word of debate earlier this week.

The house committee acted on the agriculture bill after weeks of closed door hearings and after Secretary Anderson insisted that any reductions would impair essential farm services. The estimates submitted, Anderson claimed, were rock-bottom minimums.

But the committee rejected this contention and said in its report that the bill's objective is to make "selective reductions" based upon present and future needs of agriculture.

To back up its contention that less federal money is needed, the report quoted statistics submitted by Anderson showing that between 1940 and 1946 the value of farmers' livestock, equipment and crop inventories jumped 63 per cent and the value of farm lands soared 88 per cent.

Farm Savings Rise

Farm Savings rose from $4,200,000,000 to $8,300,000,000 during those years, while farmers' debts dropped from $10,000,000,000 to $8,300,000,000, the report said.

"Here then, is unparalleled testimony to the splendid conditions of American agriculture," it declared.

The committee's major cuts were directed at the farmers' home administration, an offshoot of the old farm security administration; the soil conservation service, the crop insurance program, and the school lunch program.

Of the total recommended reduction, $148,000,000 was accounted for by transfer from the agriculture department to the treasury's general fund of "section 32" money heretofore allotted for various farm programs, including the school lunch project and conservation payments.

From Customs Duties

These funds come from customs duties, 30 per cent of which had been contemplated for the use of $100,000,000 of this money for benefit payments to farmers.

The committee said, however, that its action in withholding the "Section 32" money should not be "taken to mean that similar action should be taken in future years."

"This fund is intended to provide relief in emergent periods when a surplus problem exists," the committee said. "That problem, however, does not exist at the present time • • •."

The committee also (a) cut out all funds for farm tenant loans, (b) trimmed from $387,500,784 to $90,000,000 the funds for soil conservation payments, and (c) entirely eliminated from the bill that would have authorized a $500,000,000 soil conservation program for the 1948 crop year.

Bureau Office Cut

It ordered a 25 per cent cut (about 130 employes) in public information and publicity activities of the department and chopped $1,000,000 allowance for the school lunch program from $70,000,000 to $69,000,000.

On the other hand, the committee approved full budget estimates

FLORIDA REAPS DIVORCE CROP

State's "Take" in Tie-Severing Business Estimated at $5,000,000.

By The Associated Press

MIAMI, Fla., May 23—Florida's seasonal crop of divorces has been harvested, and the state is richer by an estimated $5,000,000 or more.

For the year as a whole, attorneys, courts, hotel and innkeepers, restaurants and night clubs will garner something like 10 to 15 million dollars from the business of severing marital ties.

Miami alone, which grants about one-fourth of all the divorces in the state, gets about half the income, because a majority of Miami's divorces are granted in the spring, after visitors have spent the required 90 days residence enjoying a tropical vacation.

Spring Best Average

The greater number of Florida's 22,000 divorces last year were obtained in March, April and May. That means divorces come higher in resort areas like Miami and Palm Beach than the average for the state.

Divorces outstrip marriages in Miami, although it's close. Last year the Dade county (Miami) courts granted 6,260 final divorce decrees, and 6,226 couples were married in the county.

It was not until 1935, when the legislature reduced the residence requirement from two years to 90 days, that business began to boom. In 1929, Dade county recorded only 597 divorces, but the figure reached 1,497 in 1935 and climbed Fees for divorces differ widely. The Dade County Bar association recommends $250 as a minimum attorney's fee. Others do the job for less or accept more, depending upon circumstances and ability to pay.

$200,000 Top Fee

Largest divorce fee ever recorded in the state was the $200,000 allowed attorneys for John Ringling, who divorced his second wife shortly before his death in 1936.

There are various other costs, including circuit court clerk's fee, cost of publication and master's fee, which may run from $5 to $25.

There are nine grounds for divorce in Florida, but insanity is not one of them as it is in Nevada. Otherwise, the divorce laws of the two states are strikingly similar, including impotency, adultery, extreme cruelty, habitual intemperance, and desertion. Conviction of a felony is a cause in Nevada, but not in Florida.

The divorce business brings Miami's attorneys an estimated $1,500,000 a year, but it is well distributed. There are 600 lawyers in Miami alone, and practically all of them accept divorce cases.

Atomic Predictions Termed Exaggerated

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, May 23 — Predictions for the future of atomic power have been "so fantastic and exaggerated that he reality will undoubtedly seem pretty unspectacular," says E. E. Johnson, engineering manager of the General Electric Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

In an address before the National Oil and Gas Power conference, American Society of Mechanical Engineers, Johnson said the first practical peacetime use of atomic energy "is quite likely to be in the propulsion of a vessel, with land use coming along somewhat later."

THIS PLAN IS DESIGNED FOR YOUNG CIVILIANS WHO WANT TO GET AHEAD IN THEIR JOBS

The new Civilian Naval Reserve program has something to offer almost any young man who wants to get ahead. Free, expert training in more than two dozen subjects; subjects useful for advancement in civil life is only part of the story. There is also fun, companionship, and the chance to take interesting practice cruises. And this will surprise you . . . you can get paid for the spare time you give. But this plan is definitely not "something for nothing." You gain training and interesting experience and, in return, you contribute toward keeping our naval strength at the top.

This new program is highly flexible; you can give as much or as little time as you like, depending upon the classification and activity of the Reserve Organization which you join.

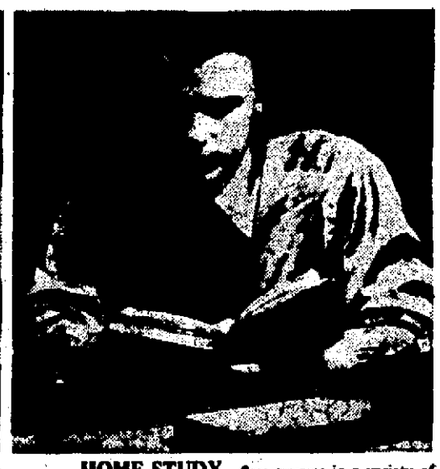
BOTH VETERANS AND NON-VETERANS ARE ELIGIBLE

Naval Reserve Veterans can step right back to their old ratings, with no "ifs, ands or buts," and draw the basic pay of those ratings for every hour of training. Non-Veterans are invited to join, and are offered every chance for advancement to gain training and experience that will help them in their civilian jobs, too.

Many will qualify for cruises

Members of the Organized Reserve may take part in practice cruises aboard the Navy's modern battleships, aircraft carriers, cruisers, destroyers, submarines, etc. Here's an experience you'll enjoy and never forget.

GROUP INSTRUCTION is provided in many subjects; taught by experts. An excellent opportunity to get skilled, up-to-date training and experience in specialties useful in many civilian occupations.



HOME STUDY—free courses in a variety of practical subjects . . . can help you advance in both the Naval Reserve and in your civilian job.

COME ABOARD and join the thousands of young men who are finding this new program full of interest, variety, and fun . . . and profitable. You'll find a "spot" in this program for you.

Electronics, Engineering, Photography . . . these are only a few of the subjects offered

There is something of interest, and profit, to almost everybody. Meteorology, the study of the weather, or navigation, for instance, might be expected, but there are also courses in naval aspects of accounting, air conditioning, woodwork, construction, welding, pharmacy, laboratory work . . . all kinds of specialties, even cooking!

Even the beginner in the Organized Reserve can get $2.50 for his two-hour training meeting. Higher grades, of course, can get more. Full-time pay during practice cruises or when on duty at shore stations. There are home study courses for those who want to get ahead more rapidly. A man "writes his own ticket" as to how fast and how far he advances.

Here's where you can get the full story

There's a useful new booklet called "Come Aboard" that tells you what you want to know; tells it in simple, understandable language. Ask for it at any Navy Recruiting Station or Naval Reserve activity.

AVIATION—a mighty important part in the new Naval Reserve Training Program. Many will apply for this branch of service.

Hot Springs Mourns $100,000 a Night Poker

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Writer

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., May 23—The $100,000 a night poker games are over in this nationally known health resort, but some citizens want them back.

They are afraid that reform will cost Hot Springs, long as wide open as any city in America, the patronage of many of the half million visitors who come here annually for vacation fun or healthful baths.

Hal Boyle

Right now the lid of civic virtue is clamped on tighter than a 6¼-size derby on a 7½-size head. The big casinos that grossed $30,000,000 a year are shut — even the two-bit punchboards are gone. The fancy bookie joints are closed.

"You can still place a bet on the horses," complained one resident. "But it's on a curbstone basis."

GI's Start It

The new era began last December after a group of GI's led by Sidney S. McMath, former Marine combat officer, overthrew political machine forces headed by Leo P. MacLaughlin, mayor for 20 years.

The professional gamblers promptly closed up, and "Leo of Hot Springs," as dapper a dresser as the late Jimmy Walker of New York, is under 15 indictments charging bribery, misuse of public funds and other unpleasant things.

The question confronting Hot Springs now is, "How long will the lid stay on?"

Some supporters of the GI "cleanup" campaign insist that its leaders ran not on a platform of "blue-nose reform" but only on a platform to oust machine politics and restore clean elections.

See Opening Soon

These supporters believe that Hot Springs will open up again.

The mass of visitors here come merely to rest and treat their ailments with hot mineral baths. But thousands of playboys also come who like to gamble and spend freely.

One long term resident told me:

"Some visitors who used to stay months now take the regular three-week course of baths and then leave because they say there is nothing to do any more."

Trade has fallen off some in the last month, but it is uncertain yet whether this is a result of the shutdown of the gambling houses or just a normal drying up of post-war spending.

The businessmen along Central avenue, the chief thoroughfare, are divided on whether the town should be open or shut.

Want Share in Profits

"The general feeling is that if there is to be gambling the community should benefit from it," said one. "The profits shouldn't go to one individual or one group."

A grand jury estimated that the local gambling syndicate earned gross profits of $3,871,928 from 14 casinos while the city collected only some $30,000 in "chicken-feed" fines against bookies. The grand jury said several local gamblers made more than $100,000 a year and one paid tax on an income of $176,000.

Gambling is a felony in Arkansas, but enforcement of the law is largely left to local officers.

Runs in Cycles

One veteran observer put the situation this way:

"This town runs in cyles. First there is machine rule and the town is open. Then there is a reform era. Then machine rule comes back, and the town re-opens.

"It's been an off-and-on matter like that for a hundred years. But the machine eras are generally longer than the reform eras."

This may be of interest to 400 former workers in the closed casinos. They are now unemployed.

EX-DAYTONITE MAY HEAD METHODISTS

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, May 23 — Dr. Hazen G. Werner, former pastor of Grace Church in Dayton, O., now associated with Drew Theological seminary in New York, today was considered a leading candidate for appointment as the next bishop of the Ohio conference of the Methodist church.

This was indicated in selection of Dr. Werner by the Ohio conference at its annual session here yesterday to head the delegation from the conference to the quadrennial general conference in Boston next year and the north central jurisdictional conference shortly afterwards.

Four bishoprics are to be filled in the jurisdication—one the Ohio conference episcopate now held by Bishop H. Lester Smith, who will retire because of the church's age limit for its prelates—and conference sources said the minister heading the conference delegation is by custom given prime consideration for the vacancy.

Three other delegates were elected yesterday: Dr. John T. Alton, Columbus district superintendent; Dr. F. Bringle McIntosh, Toledo district superintendent, and Dr. J. Otis Young of Cincinnati. Balloting was still incomplete today.

Conference delegates, who represent nearly 800,000 members of the church, yesterday deferred action on a conference report which said President Truman's program of military aid to Greece and Turkey was "an explicit by-passing of the UN."

CINCINNATI BACKS UP CONSTITUTION SHIFT

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, May 23—Cincinnati city council today enlisted the aid of Ohio municipalities in a movement it described as effort to "change the constitution of Ohio to free cities of rural domination."

Chairman Gordon H. Scherer of council's planning committee said he planned another early meeting of his committee to further plans for a statewide drive to place on the ballot an amendment to the constitution which would give larger cities greater representation in the senate and house of the Ohio general assembly.

City council took the initiative in proposing the amendment for the election next November after the house taxation committee shelved the urban redevelopment bill by 10-8 vote.

Gov. Thomas J. Herbert, a big city man himself since he comes from Cleveland, said yesterday he would ask the legislative committee to reconsider its action, adding he would "be disappointed unless some legislation was enacted on this subject."

City council here also will meet with its local state representatives and senators to discuss the possibility of having the urban redevelopment bill reconsidered.

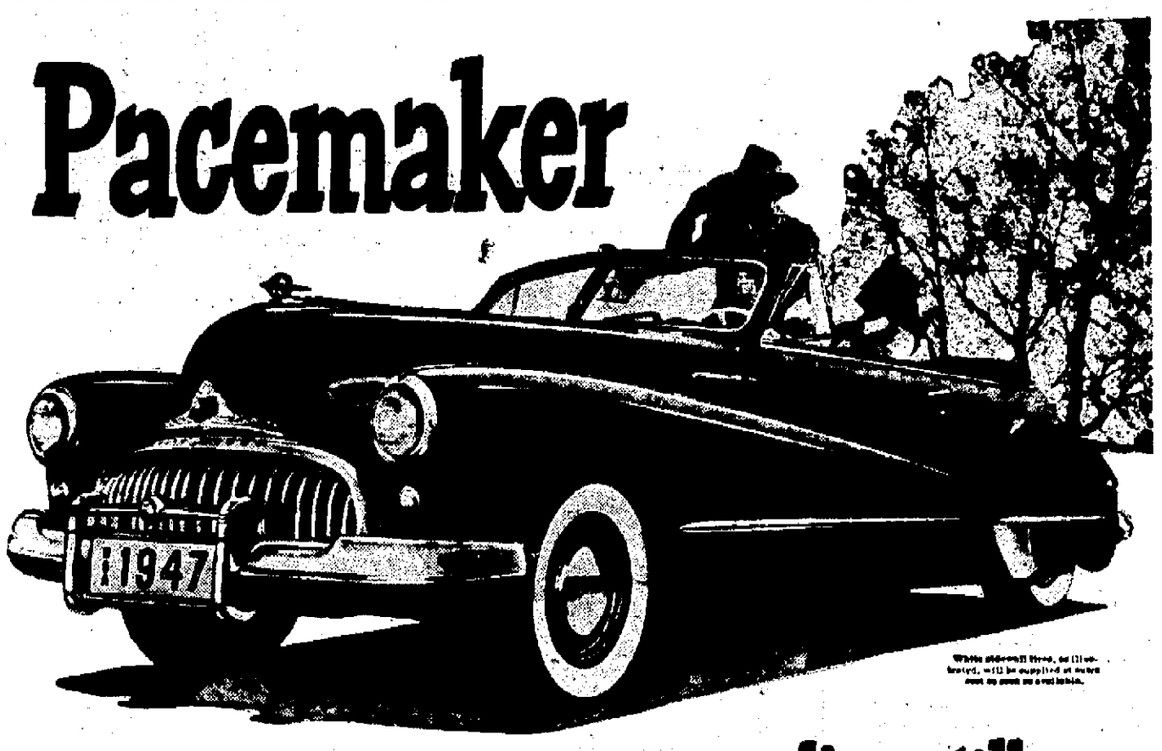
Pacemaker



—even standing still

HERE you see — in one sleek and tidy package — all the things it takes to make the style-setter and the standout performer of the year.

One eye-filling glance will tell you that here's the clean-lined beauty and hint-of-tomorrow look that will cue the trend of car design for many seasons to come.

But just wait till you get this beauty in motion, and you'll know why folks are saying there's nothing on wheels to match it.

That bonnet's not broad and haughty for looks alone; it's brim-filled with power — the satin-smooth power of Buick's big Fireball straight-eight engine.

Go where you will, its two solid tons and soft coil springs on all four wheels make byroad and highroad equally smooth.

You get this in any Buick. But you get something more in the one pictured here.

Its snug top shelters you at the touch of a finger. Its door windows and even its front seat are power-operated by push-button control.

And thanks to the magic of Buick's new Silent Zone mounted bodies, you ride in a solid and road-steady silence such as Convertibles have never known before.

In other words, here's style and size, power and room, convenience and comfort all wrapped up in one of the most exciting models of the year's most wanted car.

That means, of course, that it takes a bit of waiting before one can be yours. But the best way to shorten that wait is to take the all-important step — and get your order in now. We'll take it with or without a trade-in.

A FINGER TOUCH—and the door window runs up or down automatically. Other handy controls raise or lower the top and adjust the front seat.

Make This Home Recipe To Take Off Ugly Fat

It's simple. It's amazing how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of Liquid Rennel Concentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Then take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. You don't have to starve yourself; eat sensibly per instructions on bottle. Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloat disappears—how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

Propose Marion Woman's Song Be Made Official for Ohio

A song, the words and music of which are by Mrs. Faye Strother Mouser of 141 South Prospect street, was presented for adoption as the official song of Ohio, by County Representative Kenneth A. Robinson, at the 97th general assembly of the state legislature Thursday. No action was taken.

In his resolution Mr. Robinson pointed out that the dignity and prestige of the state will be greatly enhanced by the adoption of a state song and designated the composition as conveying the noble sentiments of the Buckeye state in the universal language of song.

The song has been presented before audiences here and also was sung at both the national and state conventions of music clubs this year.

Mrs. Mouser is state chairman of music in hospitals and in addition to her activities in local music circles takes a prominent part in state work.

The song, titled "Hail Ohio," follows:

We love to sing to thee our state
East, West, North, South there's none so great.
With rolling hills and fertile fields
We treasure all the harvest yields.
From Erie's sparkling waves we go,
To "OHIO'S peaceful flow.
So let's be glad,
Be glad we live in this great OHIO.

Admitted to the Union free,
In the year eighteen o-three.
We've reared our men to represent
Our country as its president.
We boast of rich historic lore,
To industries we open the door.
So let's be glad,
Be glad we live in this great OHIO.

The dawn of day at last is here,
When civic pride we hold more dear.
With loyal hearts and faith untold
Our richest blessings will unfold.
Then let us strive for peace and right
Building for a future bright.
So let's be glad,
Be glad we live in this great OHIO.

MAC PHAIL DENIES GIVING FLY OR ELSE ULTIMATUM

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, May 23—President Larry MacPhail of the New York Yankees denied today that he had issued a "fly or else" ultimatum to his players, but confirmed the fact that he had fined six players for failure to cooperate in promotion and non-baseball activities.

Because they failed to leave batting practice to have their pictures taken with soldiers and Wacs modeling proposed new style army uniforms, Joe DiMaggio was fined $100, the first fine of his career as a Yankee, and Charley Keller and Aaron Robinson were docked lesser amounts.

MacPhail, describing the fines as a way to "lay down the law in a way the players would understand," almost boiled over at hearing reports that players who refused to fly with the club on the next western trip would be required to pay their own railroad fare.

"No one on our ball club ever has been told that he has to fly. Nor will anyone ever be told that he must fly," MacPhail asserted. "Players who prefer to make trips by train may do so at any time."

The Yankee president refused to make the fining of the players very seriously. "I haven't received any squawks at all from the players I fined," he said.

Driver in Accident Fined, Loses License

A three-car accident occurred on West Columbia street at 11:32 p. m. Thursday night.

A car driven by Harold M. Healea, 22, of Waldo, sideswiped one driven by Ernest F. Stock of 609 West Columbia street and veered into a parked auto owned by Donald Coil of 466 West Columbia street.

The Healea car did not stop and police caught him on Bellefontaine avenue. He was charged with driving while intoxicated and pleaded guilty in municipal court this morning. He was fined $100 and costs and his driver's license was suspended for three years.

C. of C. Committee Discusses Legislation

Members of the taxation committee of Marion Chamber of Commerce held a general discussion Thursday afternoon in the Chamber of Commerce office. E. L. Cleveland presided as chairman. Topics under discussion included the appropriations bill now before the Ohio State legislature which appears to be $30,000,000 in excess of funds available, the distribution of funds by the county budget commission and personal property returns.

HOSTESS TO CIRCLE

Mrs. E. J. Schoenlaub of Mt. Vernon avenue was hostess to members of Circle No. 12 of Epworth Methodist church Thursday afternoon. Devotions were conducted by Mrs. Homer Waddell. The program included an article, "Troubles," read by Mrs. R. E. Acker and a talk by Mrs. D. T. Mills entitled "Children and the Law." Mrs. Harold Ulsh was welcomed as a new member. The hostess was assisted in serving refreshments by Mrs. W. J. Markwith and Mr. Bertha Gooding.

PAYS COPS WITH COPPERS

BUCYRUS, May 23 — Police were confronted with a pocket full of pennies when a parking meter violator brought in his one dollar fine after receiving a ticket Thursday. The motorist dumped pennies on the counter, 90 of them, supplementing the coppers with two nickels to complete the sum.

PICNIC AT BUCYRUS SET FOR CUB SCOUTS

Event Planned at Session of District Leaders in Marion.

Plans for a picnic dinner to be held at the Aumiller Scout Camp at Bucyrus on June 26 were discussed when the regular meeting of Marion district Cub Scouting leaders was held Thursday night at the Forest Lawn Community House. G. W. Roberts was named chairman of a committee for picnic plans with Howard Zeigler, Hugh Hay and W. F. Mochel assisting.

A report of the last meeting was given by Mrs. John Rinnert, den mother of Pack 29. The session was in charge of Charles Smith, scout district commissioner, with Herman E. Powelson, field commissioner of cubbing, as moderator and Fred Spurlock serving as legislator.

A "den opening" was presented by Mrs. E. H. White, den mother of Den 2, Pack 3, with all adults present taking part in the opening as 'cubs'. Topic for discussion was "Summertime Cubbing." Bill Roberts, cub master of Pack 2, explained "Things That Go" in the club program and Howard Zeigler presented a resume of "Traditional Seasonal Activities" of cubbing.

Announcement was made that tickets for the Marion district circus to be held June 9 at Lincoln park may now be purchased from any scout. Admission for the district circus will be twenty-five cents. All scouts in the Marion district can participate.

Meetings of the Cub Leaders' Round Table will be discontinued during July and August. The cub masters' training course is under the leadership of Mr. Spurlock. Tenderfoot requirements for cubs were listed by G. F. Roberts. Knot tying and stunts were presented and plans were made for the main contest in September when the next regular meeting will be held. The knot-tying teams will include Mr. Rinnert and E. Jones of Den 1 against Mr. Mochel and Edward Hachten of Den 2.

TRAFFIC SAFETY BOOKS DISTRIBUTED IN SCHOOLS

Pupils Receive "Whifflehound" Story from Junior C. of C.

Thirty-eight hundred copies of "Pete and the Whifflehound," a safety booklet for children, are being distributed today by members of the Marion Junior Chamber of Commerce public safety committee to each child in the first six grades of all public and parochial schools.

Assisting with the distribution are Ray Coleman, chairman, George Schwab, Lowell Shambaugh and Don Flach. School officials have approved the project and hope the little booklet, printed in story form with drawings, will help to cut down on summer vacation traffic accidents.

In the little story the famous Whifflehound has a strange way of flashing red or green eyes at his master, designating whether it is safe to cross the street. After many narrow escapes the Whifflehound finally convinces the little boy that the following rules are best: cross a street at a corner after looking both ways, never play in the street, do not run out past a parked car, avoid trucks, stand on the curb until the way is clear and never walk between two cars waiting for a traffic light.

Exchange Club Maps Plans for Carnival

Members of the Exchange club discussed plans for a carnival to be held June 8 at the Drake lot on East Fairground street when they met at Hotel Harding Thursday night for their dinner-meeting. The carnival is being sponsored jointly by members of the Exchange club, sheriff's office and the Marion Navy club. Plans for the publishing of a county directory were also discussed. Proceeds from both the carnival and from advertising in the directory will be divided between the Exchange club and sheriff's office. The former organization plans to use its share of the proceeds to purchase an inhalator to be used by the city police and sheriff's office for emergencies. The sheriff's office hopes to purchase a boat and grappling hooks.

Bigger Than the Bomb

INTERNATIONAL freedom of the press is the biggest idea placed before the United Nations. The UN subcommission holding hearings on this possibility is sitting on top of something more potent than atomic energy.

War could be outlawed by its victims, if they knew enough about one another. Governments plotting to commit the international crime of aggression, could be overthrown. Iron curtains would be melted. Politicians would be kept on their good behavior. It would be impossible to hoodwink a nation, the way Hitler hoodwinked Germany and the way Josef Stalin and associates are hoodwinking Russia.

There could be no repetition of the hoax played on the Japanese by their warlords. The United States could quit arguing with itself about the necessity of fighting propaganda with propaganda; there would be no need for State Department propaganda if international freedom of the press could be achieved. The people, given light, would find their own way—and it wouldn't be into the jaws of World War III.

Of all the proposals to come before the United States, however, the proposal for international freedom of the press is least likely to succeed. That is because it is more potent than any of the others, even more potent than the proposal to establish international control of atomic energy. When governments show genuine interest in lifting barriers against information, that will be the infallible sign that cooperative security is about to be accomplished. It can be accomplished in no other way.

Bless Henry's Heart

HENRY WALLACE'S followers chanted at a monster rally in Chicago that they wanted him in 1948, a reminder that his European buildup was part of a political blackmail plot to bring Harry Truman to heel.

Wallace is climbing the speechmaking stumps as fast as modern transportation can get him into position. His speech in Chicago was followed two days later by one in Hollywood, where he shouted that he wasn't afraid of communism, but only of bigots stirring the "steaming cauldrons of hatred and fear." He plainly meant that attempts to be on guard against communism were inspired exclusively by bigots and particularly mentioned the house committee to investigate un-American activities. Being afraid of communism, in other words, makes men bigoted, in his judgment.

Bless Henry's heart, none of us is a tenth as afraid of communism as of his fuzzy-minded notion that to try to do something about it is a sign of bigotry. Specifically, we're afraid of the kind of Americans who line up behind the Henry Wallaces—the kind that believes the Easter bunny lays the candy eggs, that the stork brings babies and the Kremlin wouldn't hurt us if we'd only quit annoying it.

The way to lick communism in the United States is to make sure that capitalism stays in working order, but communism is incidental. What the United States chiefly has to worry about is saps who think absolutism on the Moscow plan is communism, and the head sap seems to be Henry Wallace.

Only the Beginning

EXCEPT for Korea, Secretary Marshall sees no further need for aid of the Greek-Turkish loan type at this time. However, he emphasized "at this time" and he wasn't speaking of other pipelines by which United States funds go to nations in financial distress or in danger of Communist infiltration.

Complaining of these funds of astronomical size, Representative Wilson of Indiana told congress: "Don't relax and think the story is finished. There is still more to come." Quite so. It's only the beginning. Under the Truman Doctrine we have embarked on a course which is going to take a whale of a sum of money—perhaps as much as 20 billions in the next three or four years. It was not a decision taken lightly. It is not a policy which can be altered in midcourse. We have decided to lay the money on the line and continual bickering and sniping will not aid matters.

Soviet influence is making itself felt on widely-separated fronts. Even the Philippine Hukbalahap guerrillas have been definitely linked to Russia. Communism is on the ascendant in Italy. But in France, the Communists have received a temporary setback which our policy may help to make permanent.

The world money crisis is due to become acute within the next year, with nations on the brink of starvation lacking the wherewithal to buy. The Export-Import Bank's funds are almost nil and in effect it is only another U. S. agency. As the world's only major "have" nation, we must give a hand to a world closer to the brink of chaos than many of us realize. This is not a matter of charity, just self-preservation.

The Automobile Manufacturers Association estimates that the steel strikes and two coal strikes in 1946 prevented the manufacture of approximately 1,300,000 passenger cars.

The automobile industry turned out $1,600,000,000 worth of replacement parts in 1946 as compared with $718,000,000 worth in 1941.

News Behind the News

By PAUL MALLON

Editor Wants Mallon's Opinion on Capital.

WASHINGTON, May 23 — An editor writes: "...Stop quoting those people around Washington about what they think of the tax bill, the budget, the union reform bill, and what they are doing on the sly. That is all very interesting but we know those people. I am paying for what you think. I don't care if you make a mistake once in a while. Unless I got some good judgment on Washington, what's wrong there, and what should be done about it, I will be in the same fix they are."

There is what I think about it. I am bound to be mistaken in some particular. But you can pick up the propaganda tripe in free handouts and you are paying for an honest, objective opinion and are entitled to it.

I think the exigencies of politics are working to nullify national Democratic leadership. That is about the whole story. You must judge by Mr. Truman's actions he thinks he can coast into re-election if he only lets the Republicans get themselves into hot water and heats it a little himself wherever he can without getting caught. Republicans plainly think they can establish national leadership with their economizing tax reduction and union reform bills, which really are rather mild when measured against the whole.

Opposition Politics

But the Republicans for five months encountered opposition politics, which whittled down their proposals and is culminating in threats that all or some will be lost by veto or nullification. While Mr. Truman's policy is to let the Republicans do it and his Democrats actively preventing the Republicans from doing it if possible—you have had no affirmative leadership the last six months.

This situation should clear somewhat when final conclusions on the three big points in the program become evident in the next few weeks. How much they clear depends on how much is jointly assured by both parties. Congress is adjourning in July under law. Mr. Truman will remain as administrator of the Republican program, or whatever portion of it is left after having been hammered down by political pressure. With both Mr. Truman and certain Republican leaders running for the presidency, prospects for joint leadership look rather dim. We may be lucky if they do not succeed entirely in nullifying each other until election day.

What could be done about it? A cessation of premature politics in a joint endeavor to assert an affirmative leadership during this period of business readjustment would be the best thing. Joint statements, speeches, and above all actions, are required. After this legislation is concluded and before congress adjourns, this might be possible. A change in the Gallup poll showing Mr. Truman he could not coast in would probably be more beneficial than you may suspect.

Best Democratic Ground

Democracy works best in cooperative nonpolitical ventures—foreign policy and war co-operation. Nullifying political tactics serve the vigorous anti-Democrats in this world crisis. The labor leader may somewhat justly think himself shrewd and successful for having killed certain reforms of union abuses. But if he makes the reform fail of effectiveness, as demanded in general by the electorate and two-thirds of congress, he serves only his enemies. Such tactics actually instigate strong-arm methods to force unions to produce, to keep prices in, to provide just economies and fair taxes. They might cause popular opinion to accomplish its defeated will. Such union leadership would find itself blinded by concentration of an immediate objective which might lose its whole game.

As for the Republicans, many of their leaders have been going back to ways which were old at the time of the first Roosevelt, not realizing the popular demand of the people in the last election for some new action to invigorate democracy and inspire it to work more efficiently, because it certainly was not working under OPA. The Republicans do not seem to be familiar with the tactics of pressure groups here because this is the first term for most of them. Anyway their spreaded position in congress makes national leadership difficult, without administrative cooperation, and in the face of hot politics.

A Los Angeles super market is installing free movies for its customers.

Soon the indecisive shopper will be able to view "Duel In The Sun" while she makes up her mind what it'll be for lunch—lamb chops or liver.

They may even have special features made exclusively for the pushcart trade, epics like "The Prime-ribs of Your Life" and "How Green Is Our Okra."

I can just see the signs in the window — SPECIAL TODAY: Gregory Peck and Home Grown Tomatoes. Or, Fresh Stringless Beans with An All-star Cast.

In the future, of course, when a lady goes into a food store and asks for corn, she'll have to specify: Canned or Cinematic.

Meanwhile, the movie industry can be expected to move promptly to meet the new competition. Doubtless before long every cinema palace worthy of the name will carry a complete line of plain and fancy groceries.

Red Cross Honors Founder

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON—This month the American Red Cross, which enrolled a peak of 56,000,000 members in World War II, celebrates its 66th birthday.

This month also it honors its founder, Clara Barton who died at 90 in 1912.

Clara Barton

At the age of 15 Clara Barton was teaching 40 pupils in a one-room school. At 40 she was giving aid to hundreds of soldiers in Civil War hospitals.

At the age of 59 she founded the American Red Cross — on May 21, 1881. The organization now boasts 3,754 working chapters.

Unusual as this record is for three score years, in the case of Clara Barton it was only a beginning.

She was 62 when she chartered a steamer, loaded it with food and clothing, medicines and other relief supplies and traveled through the flooded Ohio and Mississippi valleys to aid great numbers of destitute families.

Miss Barton and her helpers not only served needy humans in that spring of 1884, but many times the steamer was reloaded with hay and other feed for starving cattle and livestock.

Aid After Hurricane

Twelve years after she founded the Red Cross she organized a program of relief work following the Sea Island, Ga., hurricane. She was 71 then. She was 76 when she took a relief ship to Cuba under the Red Cross flag, and 78 when she piloted a relief train to Galveston, Tex., where the hurricane and tidal wave of 1900 had snuffed out 6,000 lives and left thousands injured and homeless.

Miss Barton was born on Christmas day, 1821, near North Oxford, Mass. She was christened Clarissa Harlowe Barton but later shortened the name simply to Clara Barton.

Miss Barton said she "let down her skirts and put up her hair" in order to take the teaching job at 15, when efforts to secure an older teacher had failed. She taught in this schoolhouse a mile from her home for several years, then came to Washington to work in the U. S. Patent Office.

Civil War Service

When the Civil War broke out Miss Barton went to the station to meet the train which brought the first troops from Massachusetts in response to Lincoln's call. As the train had passed through Baltimore, four men were killed and 30 wounded by a rioting mob.

To meet this emergency, Miss Barton tore up her own bedsheets for bandages. Later she worked with the wounded at the battles of Fredericksburg, Bull Run and Harper's Ferry.

After the war she went to Europe, where she observed the Red Cross at work in the Franco-Prussian conflict of 1870. She became acquainted with the first international Red Cross organization, established in 1864 by Henri Dunant, a Swiss. Deeply impressed, she returned to the United States to seek the aid of President Garfield in setting up an American Red Cross. Its first meeting was held in Washington.

The Heat Pump

New devices for the home of the future seem to be coming out at the rate of about two a day. Now all we need are some homes of the present.

Among the new devices are the heat pump, which will have to await full utilization until the power companies are equipped to furnish much more current than at present.

The heat pump makes use of the fact that the ground a few feet below the surface is at a constant temperature of about 53 degrees. The pump sends a refrigerant into the subsurface, drawing heat into the house. The cycle can be reversed, and the house cooled in summer. Tests have shown a six-room house can be kept at 70 degrees the year around for about $14.60 a month.

The Indianapolis Power & Light Co. has made extensive tests with the pumps, which use more current than any other appliances in the home. Two companies are making the pumps, but any large-scale use will have to be put off until the power companies can meet heavy new demands for current.

Daily Bible Thought

No one ever had much success fighting against God and his moral laws. Such upstarts are laughable and always have been: "The kings of the earth set themselves, and the rulers take council together, against the Lord and against his anointed."—Ps. 2:2.

Will Dewey Be Stopped?

By JOSEPH and STEWART ALSOP

WASHINGTON, May 23—Without much fanfare, Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio is quietly preparing to organize his presidential candidacy on a business basis. Now that the labor bill is safely through the senate, there is time to consider such important problems as selection of a campaign manager—a post for which the astute Representative Clarence Brown of Ohio is the most likely choice. And thereafter must begin the serious effort to sell Taft to the Republican organizations, with which to date Taft's friends have merely been "keeping in touch."

There are several singularly interesting aspects of the new development. For one thing, the Taftites are showing marked signs of reviving optimism, claiming that the passage of the labor bill through the senate has balanced off their candidate's setbacks earlier in the congressional session. For another, there is some reason to believe that one of Taft's first moves as an active candidate will be to make a pronouncement on foreign policy departing very radically from his isolationist past. Finally, and perhaps most important of all, it already appears that organization of a "Stop Dewey" movement will be a central feature of the Taft strategy.

This is inevitable, for perfectly practical reasons. Senator Taft's warmest supporters frankly admit that Governor Thomas E. Dewey is the front-runner. The New Yorker's candidacy has been organized on a business basis for many months, and the Dewey salesmen are already in the field. The Republican organization leaders through the country dislike Dewey but think he can win. And the Republicans want a winner. After their long banishment from the public trough, they are naturally obsessed with getting back to it.

Taft's situation is the opposite of Dewey's. He is second in the they doubt his capacity to carry field, and although the organization leaders like him very well, the country. Taft's friends admit the existence of these doubts. They even envision the possibility of his withdrawal as a candidate if the improvement resulting from his labor bill success does not continue and become cumulative. Thus what is happening now is tentative and exploratory. Nevertheless, the logic of the situation remains, and is recognized. And that is why one can already discern the "Stop Dewey" movement's embryonic form.

It will center in the Taft camp. If successful, it will take the form of a record crop of favorite sons, ranging from such obvious participants as Governor Greene of Illinois and Senator Martin of Pennsylvania to such obscure and dubious local heroes as Senators Kem of Missouri and Cain of Washington. The egos of these statesmen are already being massaged to encourage their ambitions. As of this writing, it appears that Dewey will be extremely hard to stop. But the theory is that Dewey can be stopped, and thus an opening provided for Taft in the last lap of the race, if enough local Republican chieftains of the Kem-Cain stripe can only be induced to hang onto their states' delegations for their own greater glory.

This is all in the future. For the present, Taft is adequately busy coping with the congressional present and thinking out his next moves. In the latter category is the possible foreign policy pronouncement already referred to. It will be made on the West Coast after the session, if it is made at all. The desirability of making such a speech on the senate floor was briefly considered by Taft during the Greek-Turkish aid debate. He then decided that to do more than vote for the bill would encroach upon the leadership of Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan.

Since that time Taft has made a brief but significant statement to a New York gathering, that he strongly favored the federation of Europe, believed the United States should support it, and accepted the need to provide large-scale American financing for the project. This suggests the line that Taft may take on the West Coast, making the scheme of a federated Europe his own, declaring that facts rule out the old isolationist policies, and acknowledging the disagreeable but impelling necessity of U. S. financing of European stability.

Meanwhile, both Taft and his friends admit that his chances depend for the present on his performance during the rest of the congressional session. He must end the session with his reputation high in order to continue the race. The essential thing is to put through all the remaining major items of the Republican program, such as the tax bill. But it is also desired to dilute the conservatism of the official Republican program by securing action on such measures as the housing and education bills.

Even to achieve what is regarded as essential, Taft must surmount considerable obstacles. The senate Democratic leadership is planning, for example, to move to set the tax reduction plan aside until the completely stymied joint congresional budget committee can produce a report. And it seems quite possible that the Democrats will recruit enough Republican votes to succeed in this maneuver.

Oklahoma's End

(The Dreadnought Oklahoma, veteran of two world wars, and sunk and raised at Pearl Harbor, sank mysteriously while being towed to the junk yard.—News item.)

• • •

The final ugly blow you shun—
The last foul deed you duck;
A kindly hand at last is yours—
The ship that had no luck.
A bleak and barren skeleton,
Sold for a junkman's pay,
You met the mercy of the seas
And died the gentle way.

II

Gaunt, stripped of beauty and of grace,
A ghastly, withered ghost
Of what was once a wonder ship
To brighten any coast.
They bound you up in clanking chains
And dragged you out to sea,
A crown of hawsers on your brow,
To meet your Galilee.

III

The symbol of a dastard's blow
And of a land's dark hour....
A ship that met a sneak attack
And felt a despot's pow'r...
A vessel blitzed as few have been,
A great ship crucified....
A resurrection, too, you knew
Before the last, deep glide.

IV

For thirty years you bore the flag,
Through two tough wars you came;
The joy of battle was not yours,
But you were game, dead game;
In fairer days you took the seas,
A glamour girl and gay,
But few breaks did you ever know
Until that last, long day.

V

In world war I you sailed abroad
And did as fate decreed;
Heroic role you were denied
But you were of the breed;
Then when another war broke out,
Once more you knew no luck—
When at the braggart's hand one morn
You died in blood and muck.

VI

And yet that martyrdom did much
To save us, every one,
For by it were we roused to know
The slothful days were done;
The thought of you so foully sunk—
Your brave dead caught inside—
Steeled heart and sinew for the job
In which our millions died.

L'ENVOI

So here's to you, now gone, old girl—
The "ship that knew no luck."...
The gal that had a wealth of stuff
But by strange fates was struck!
No crowbars now shall pick your bones—
Your flesh no torch shall see....
Here's to the Sea God that decreed
A death in dignity!

Mamma's little baby is growing so fast,
He's finished with bottle and bib!
We'd move him into the guest bed now
If the guest would sleep in the crib!

The Old Days

The first permit ever issued for an auto enter Central Park brought a high price at auction the other day. The permit was issued Curtis P. Brady in 1898. It specified that "accepting this, the holder agrees to exercise the greatest care to avoid frightening horses or causing any danger or annoyance to other users of the park."

Who can remember away back when horses snorted, reared and bolted at the sight of an auto? Back to us comes the recollection of boyhood when we used to start driving Charlie Atwood's big black horse out of Ward street into Davenport avenue and, seeing a Pope-Hartford in the distance, turn around and head the other way. If the horse had seen it first the horse, wagon and Phillips would have gone in different directions.

No Apologies

By TRUMAN TWILL

An old friend of the family looked about the house recently and wanted to know what had happened to T. Manville, the tireless tomcat whose tail alone weighed three pounds and whose philosophic point of view made him the envy of all the tomcats for miles around. He was told that T. Manville hadn't been home since last November.

No tomcat ever stays away from home this long, was the argument this old family friend used, which showed how little he knew about tomcats. We had a tomcat once who left home before he was a year old and was never seen again until the day of his death, which happened under a tree in the back yard 14 years later.

Because there may be others who do not understand about tomcats, this is to correct any impression that cats in general—and tomcats in particular—ever share the sense of loyalty which binds dogs, children, wives, husbands etc., to their homes.

They are not even loyal to other cats. Between cats there is nothing like the feeling between even such stupid animals as horses, for example. Two horses will stand head to flank for hours and switch flies to their mutual advantage. Two cats wouldn't work together if they were the last two cats on earth.

This is something people do not understand about cats and is the cause of much misunderstanding. It is the cause of misunderstanding about T. Manville. Some people do not see why the Twillery should continue to feel kindly toward an animal which has turned tail on it, so to speak.

It is only because it was understood from the outset that T. Manville was welcome to leave when he no longer wanted to stay. When he became tired of staying, he was welcome to go. No other arrangement works with cats. A cat forced to stay home against its will is frustrated and unhappy.

Wherever T. Manville is (he was in Florida last winter but returned to this part of the country recently) he is not frustrated, nor unhappy. He is carrying his head and tail high.

He is a scoundrel, a tramp, a villain, miscreant, rakehell, wretch, devil incarnate, prodigal, lost sheep, rounder, ruffian, bully, blackguard, trifler, gentleman of easy virtue, scamp, heart-breaker and a general all-around no-account punk. He has deserted more families than most tomcats dream of having and is thoroughly irresponsible.

But these are the reasons why he can continue to think of the Twillery as home. These are the attributes he shares with all other tomcats on earth, the things which make tomcats admirable—and lovable—in a society that professes to admire only the so-called virtues and forget that virtue standing alone is dull and insufferable, needing a bit of wickedness to bring out the flavor.

It is normal for the Northern Sea Otter to swim on its back.

Zanesville Hails Home-Town Man As Movie Star

By The Associated Press

ZANESVILLE, O., May 23—To some 2,500 former neighbors, young Richard Basehart today was an established movie star.

The boy who left the city room of the Zanesville Signal ten years ago for a fling at the stage and its random fortunes could hear the kind words wherever he went this morning.

For almost one solid week he had participated in the "buildup" for the Eagle-Lion films strange, neurotic production, "Repeat Performance." Zanesville, his home, had been chosen for the world premiere though Basehart's contribution to the film was not enough to warrant top billing.

After the film, most of the fans were somewhat reticent. They preferred to see what the newspaper critics wrote.

But Dick Basehart won the cold-hearted critics, too. Some of their comments:

W. Ward Marsh (Cleveland Plain Dealer)—"The local boy . shows tremendous promise, a strong talent and a depth of feeling, and Eagle-Lion is quite right in anticipating stardom for him."

Marv V McGavran (Ohio State Journal, Columbus) — "Basehart reads with exceptional ease and conviction, thus emerging as a screen newcomer who is bound to be heard from again and again."

And the commentary Dick Basehart probably respected the most came from his former newspaper colleague of the Zanesville Signal, Clair Stebbins, now managing editor there He wrote.

"With the air and assurance of a veteran screen performer, Basehart interpreted the show's most difficult role in a masterly fashion that made it difficult to believe this was his movie debut."

Which was just about the way most of Zanesville felt today .

THE ELEPHANTS ARE COMING. Everyone knows that elephants are intelligent animals, and the fact that they perform better for women than they do for men proves it beyond a doubt. And, when one looks at the girls who present the huge beasts in the rings of the Cole Brothers Combined Circus coming to Marion next Monday for afternoon and night performances at the Drake show grounds, there just can't be any argument about it for the girls are very, very attractive and they know their job.

Marion Knowlton, pictured above atop the head of "Blanch," is a girl who knows elephants. She can make them do their stuff and like it,—and, like her, too. She has a way with the ponderous brutes,—"bulls" as they are known in circus argot, and you'll agree after you see her in the center ring as she puts them through their paces.

The performance will begin at 2:15 and 8 p. m. with the main gates open at 1 and 7 p. m.

As an extra feature circus day, the old-time steam calliope will again be heard at noon at the circus grounds.

LISTENS TO FISH TALK

The octopus is another noisemaker with "thwocking" sounds as he releases his suction cups. Razor clams are the only ones who won't talk in the list from albacore to zooid.

Oregon Trail Swarms With Red Crickets

By The Associated Press

ORDNANCE, Ore., May 23 — The old Oregon Trail highway was red with crickets on a six-mile stretch west of here today as millions of the migrating insects moved closer to rich farmlands, despite the efforts of farmers and seagulls.

The seagulls, virtually unknown in this dry wheat country until they descended in large flocks yesterday, were attacking the northwest flank of the crickets.

Their numbers were insufficient yet, however, to halt the insects, which also were being combatted by machines that blew poisoned mash into their 12-mile front and by frantic farmers who were even pouring oil into irrigation ditches in an attempt to stem the advance.

UN Balkan Watchdogs Awarded Free Hand

By The Associated Press

LAKE SUCCESS, May 23 — A special group of United Nations trouble-shooters was given a free hand today to maintain a close watch over the turbulent Balkan frontier areas.

The way was cleared for an indefinite vigil on the Greek northern borders when the United Nations security council rejected last night a Russian proposal which would have curbed the powers of a subsidiary investigating commission and ordered it to move from Salonika to Athens.

The council's action was taken after Albania, Yugoslavia and Bulgaria had threatened to boycott the UN border group by refusing to cooperate with its members or permit them to cross their frontiers.

FUNDS

of $2,475,400 for crop and livestock reports, $170,000 for investigations to develop domestic sources of rubber from guayule and other plants, $179,000 for research into improving methods for extracting rubber from such plants, $7,161,268 for payments to states for operation of experiment stations.

The committee's recommendations with respect to major departmental activities:

Soil conservation and use payments: (these are paid to farmers for following practices intended to conserve the soil and promote more production over a long period of time) funds for direct payments cut from $267,620,754 to $150,000,000; administrative expenses in national and state offices cut from $9,095,868 to $6,000,000, wth a $4,000,000 cut for county and community expenses.

School Lunch Program

School lunch program: cut from $75,000,000 to $45,000,000.

The committee said "only one child out of every nine receives a free meal," the other eight paying the cost of the lunch minus the federal subsidy.

"It does not seem too much to suggest," the report commented, "that the cost of school lunches for the children of America, most of whom are able to pay for them, might well be borne by the states."

Farm tenant loans: The entire $35,000,000 budget request was denied.

Present farm values, the committee said, are inflated and are "certain to collapse and farmers who have been saddled with loans at the current inflated values will surely come to grief."

Subsistence Loans Trimmed

The committee cut from $90,000,000 to $60,000,000 the budget request for production and subsistence loans to help farmers, asserting that "bank credit is available in abundance." It trimmed from $15,000,000 to $1,000,000 the fund for insurance of farm tenant mortgages.

Rural electrification administration: request for $5,600,000 for salaries and expenses cut to $4,000,000.

The committee approved the full budget estimate of $225,000,000 for REA loans but ordered that henceforth the money should be borrowed by REA direct from the treasury instead of from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

Crop insurance:: request for administrative funds cut from $9,330,000 to $2,000,000 and the program put on an "experimental basis" until "a sound and actuarial approach is developed." Unless that is done, the committee said, the program should be liquidated.

Research Gets Axe

Research and marketing act (a new project); cut from $19,000,000 to $6,000,000, with half the total going to state experiment stations.

Office of information: cut from $700,000 to $575,000, with the bulk of the cut to be absorbed by publicity and public relations activities.

Agricultural research in Alaska: $144,940, not requested in the budget, granted.

Bureau of animal industry: cut from $22,020,500 to $15,715,697, with a requirement that hereafter meat packers pay fees sufficient to defray the cost of meat inspections made by the bureau.

Bureau of plant industry: full budget estimates of $2,784,000 for field crop investigations and $2,445,000 for fruit, vegetable and specialty crops approved.

Bureau of human nutrition and home economics: full request for $1,045,000 approved.

Forest service: administrative expenses cut from $682,000 to $660,000; forest protection and management allotment cut from $25,310,000 to $23,784,891; full request for $9,100,000 for forest fire work granted; forest highway fund chopped from $11,500,000 to $5,300,000; fund for construction of access roads into forests, whittled from $12,500,000 to $10,000,000.

Sugar act payments to encourage production of sugar: $55,000,000 approved as requested.

Socialist Premier Takes Over in Japan

By The Associated Press

TOKYO, May 23—Tetsu Katayama, 60-year-old Socialist leader, was elected Japan's new premier by almost unanimous vote of the house of representatives tonight.

After a week of political bickering, Katayama received 420 votes to become the first Socialist premier in Japan's history and first premier whose election was dictated by popular vote at the polls.

The results will be reported to the emperor, who lost the right to name the premier under the new constitution, and the formal investiture in the imperial palace may take place later tonight.

Then Katayama will face the problem of organizing a workable coalition cabinet with the probable opposition of the influential Liberal party headed by outgoing Premier Shigeru Yoshida.

Hurry, Hurry Folks! Get Ready for Thrills Galore at the Cub Scout Circus Saturday

By MARY HERRING

Perhaps Superman didn't really throw the "no-such" monster back into its home country after all. Rumor has it that just a creature answering a similar description will be on exhibition Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock when Pack 29, Cub scouts, sponsored by the Forest Lawn Presbyterian church open their circus.

Plans for the circus, which has been designed especially for children, were announced today by Owen Meddles, field secretary. Troop 29, also sponsored by the Forest Lawn church, will assist the younger Cubs with their circus duties.

The day's festivities will start when the Cubs stage a circus parade on East Center street from Carhart street east to Barnhart street where the big top will be in readiness for the customers.

There'll Be Everything

The circus will be complete with side-shows, barkers standing in front of each concession encouraging the crowd to try that particular bit of enjoyment There will be games of skill and chance, most of them designed for the younger generation.

"Wild and weird" animals will be seen in the big show and also in the parade The Cubs haven't frogotten a thing and there will even be the pink lemonade.

Inside the big top a ringmaster decked out in his top hat with a can hanging over his arm will supervise the acts and announce each astounding event.

Dignitaries and Music, Too

Mayor Harry Dowler, William E. Marks, police chief and Owen A Sifritt, fire chief will be in the circus parade. The Harding High school band will furnish the music.

The Cubs have been working for weeks to have the costumes and large artificial animals in readiness for the big day and for some time now the community house at Forest Lawn has been packed with the "menagerie."

Admission will be two cents for the circus and the money is to be used by the Cubs for their summertime program.

Henry True, who donated use of the vacant lot, will act as grand marshal and the reviewing board include Judge Dexter Hazen, Herman Powelson, Charles Smith, Chief Marks, Mayor Dowler, Chief Sifritt, Fred Spurlock and Rev. L. V. Bauguess, past of Forest Lawn.

Mr. Spurlock will act as ringmaster.

Also helping with the circus preparations were E. P. Williamson, charge of program; Dale Weston, charge of first aid tent and designer of many of the animals; John Rinnert, coordinator, Paul Griffith, publicity chairman and Robert Griffith in charge of grounds and concessions

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

Treating Arthritis

ARTHRITIS is perhaps the most important of the diseases which continue to baffle medical science. It afflicts so many people, it is so painful and, ultimately, so crippling that doctors have tried a great variety of drugs and treatments to give their patients relief

One of these is X-ray and, according to Dr. Louis J. Gelber of New York, it has been remarkably successful both in arthritis and bursitis or inflammation of the bursa, or water-containing sacs located around joints

Just how the X-ray works in these disorders is not known but as a general rule pain is relieved, the swelling in the joints gradually disappears and the patient may regain some use of deformed limbs.

Before beginning X-ray treatments, however, it is important that other measures which often makes the patient nervous and pulls down his resistance. These include warm baths and light massage of the muscles It is also important to get rid of infections in the teeth, tonsils, sinuses or elsewhere in the body, if any are present.

Arthritis may occur during the change of life. In such cases the giving of a gland extract known as estrogenic substance may be of some help Some patients are also benefitted by the use of thyroid extract, particularly if there is a deficiency of thyroid secretion. The diet should be well-balanced and care should be taken not to permit excessive amounts of starchy foods and sweets.

The X-ray treatments during the early stages of the disease are given three times a week for two or three weeks and then once a week for five or six weeks. In chronic cases one or two treatments are given weekly for as long as seems necessary to control the symptoms.

As in all other treatments for arthritus, the X-ray is not helpful in all cases It is therefore suggested that from four to six treatments be given and if they bring relief from the pain the treatment should be continued.

Better results have been obtained with X-ray treatment in bursitis than in arthritis In these conditions also the treatments are given once or twice a week for a period of six to eight weeks.

In acute conditions, the first one or two treatments may make the symptoms worse, so that some pain-relieving drug may have to be given for a few nights Gradually as the X-rays take effect the use of these drugs can be stopped Of course, the doctor will decide in just what cases X-ray treatment for chronic arthritis and bursitis should be tried.

Is That MILK Really Skimmed?

The tiny globules of butterfat in milk and cream are literally liquid gold. The dairy industry in 1945 produced $3,632,146,000—or about 15% of the national farm income. Butterfat plays a big part in creating that wealth. That's why the milk you feed your hogs should be separated carefully. The butterfat is much too valuable to you to pour it into hog troughs along with the skim milk.

In more than three centuries, the American dairy industry has come a long way. But there's still a lot of hand-skimming—just the same way the Pilgrim Fathers skimmed their milk. That hand-skimming costs producers plenty, averaging 22% lost butterfat. Surveys show water-diluter separators lose an average of 18% of the butterfat, produce lower grading cream.

But mechanical separators, correctly adjusted and operated, will save all but a very small percentage of the butterfat. Moreover, tests have shown that producers who use mechanical separators market up to 71% of first-grade cream, while only about 40% of the hand- or water-separated cream marketed is first grade.

Thus, with even only three cows, a mechanical separator can pay for itself in as little as six months and begin earning a profit. The five minutes a day it takes to wash and sterilize a separator pays out well in dollars and cents.

Of course, there's a lot more to milk and cream quality than the method of separation used. It begins with healthy cows. Cleanliness every step of the way, quick cooling and frequent marketing —all count heavily. Nearly all state agricultural colleges offer detailed bulletins of improvement of the market value of milk and cream. They are profitable reading.

Improved quality* in the cream that we process at Swift & Company means improved nutrition for the nation . . . and nutrition is our business, and yours!

*Swift & Company cooperates with U S Department of Agriculture-Dairy Industry long term program, works with state departments of agriculture, college extension services, boards of health, 4-H Clubs, Future Farmers, American Butter Institute and other organizations interested in improving the quality of milk and cream In 1946 we staged hundreds of producers' meetings for this purpose. This effort is being expanded this year.

Mark A Shipley

Early Cut Hay is Better Feed

As Reported by Mark A. Shipley
University of Nevada

Steers wintered on meadow hay cut early in the season gained 151 pounds per head while a similar lot of steers fed late-cut hay lost 2 pounds per head. This interesting information is revealed in a report of an experiment conducted by the University of Nevada.

The two lots of steers averaged 535 pounds at the start of the feeding experiment in November. They were weighed again at the end of 100 days with the above result.

The hay classed as early cut was put up on July 10, and that classed as late cut was harvested on September 10.

After the 100-day period, all the steers were shipped back to the summer range which they had been on the previous summer. They were marketed in September. By that time, the lot fed the early-cut hay weighed 69 pounds more than those fed late-cut hay, according to the Nevada report. At 15 cents a pound, the extra gain was worth $10.35 more per steer.

The Not-So-"Good Old Days"

In the "good old days" maybe your grandfather butchered three or four steers. The beef that he didn't need for his own use he could peddle without much trouble.

Today his grandson—perhaps it's you—may produce 30 or 300, or possibly 3,000 steers a year. It would be out of the question for you to butcher them yourself, and an utter impossibility to peddle from door to door all the beef you'd have. So you send your steers to market. There they are purchased by meat packers with facilities to handle thousands of head a day. There they are converted into meat. There's a minimum of waste. By-products are turned into useful products. And the meat is distributed to markets near and far, each weight and grade going wherever it will sell best.

Without the services of nationwide meat packers, such as Swift & Company, there would be no efficient, economical way to bridge the more than 1,000-mile average gap between producers and consumers. Without these services, livestock would have to be shipped long distances, cost of dressed meat would be higher, and consumers could not afford to buy as much meat, nor would they be as well fed.

F. M. Simpson

Things are NOT always as they seem

That square seems to be a solid block of gray.

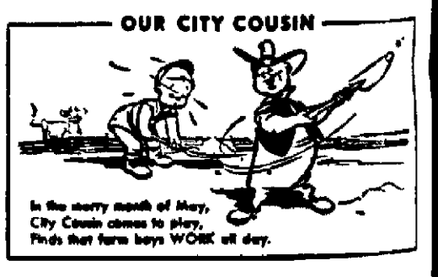
But look at it closely and you find it's made up of many individual dots.

Similarly, when some people "look at" Swift & Company, they see a big corporation. But if they look closely, they will see that Swift & Company is PEOPLE Sixty-three thousand individual people (shareholders) who have pooled their savings to create and operate this business. Sixty-six thousand individual people (employees) who work for the company—livestock buyers, workers in plants, salesmen, office workers and managers. Their combined efforts create a market for your livestock, dairy and poultry and other agricultural products, and provide nourishing foods for the tables of America.

OUR CITY COUSIN



Retire That Rooster

You'll get eggs that grade higher if you get rid of the roosters in your flock at the end of the breeding season. Infertile eggs keep better in hot weather. If non-producing hens are culled out at the same time, you'll save considerably on feed costs.

With more and more eggs being purchased on a graded basis, quality and cleanliness mean increased income to producers. The way to get uniform high-quality eggs is to keep your flock confined to the hen-house and yard, use dry litter, feed a balanced ration, gather eggs several times a day, keep them clean and cool, market them frequently.

Vault Sealed 50 Years Yields Four Letters of Washington

By The Associated Press

ST. PAUL, MINN., May 23 — A dingy, dust-filled vault on the campus of MacAlester college—sealed for a half-century—has given up a treasure of historical documents and rare books, including four original letters of George Washington.

Disclosure of the find was made by President Charles J. Turck of MacAlester, who said other rare items included an original letter from William Penn, a note penned by Abraham Lincoln for a Civil War veteran who was seeking work, and several 15th and 16th century books.

All of the items were found among the 900-volume book collection bequeathed to the college by its first president, Edward Neill, a former secretarial aid of President Wilson. Neill died in 1893.

A provision in Neill's will had specified the books were to be kept in storage and away from public use until the college could provide a special memorial room for them. The college, unaware that the collection contained rare books and manuscripts, delayed providing the memorial room until recently.

The Washington letters cover a period from 1774 to 1796. Dr. Turck said the "most interesting" Washington letter was one he had written while at camp at Cambridge, Mass., Aug. 30, 1775, at the time when he had been made commander-in-chief of the Colonial army.

The letter was addressed to Caesar Rodney and Thomas McKean and in it Dr. Turck said Washington commented that he had "endeavored to pay the best attention in my power to your recommendation of Mr. Parke, by making him an assistant to the "quarter master general."

Washington also expressed regrets that he had been unable to commission more Pennsylvania volunteers, "who, at their own expense have travelled, and now continue here."

Dr. Turck said the other letters addressed to "The Hon. Geo. W. Fairfax." One dated August, 1774, was an itemized account Washington had kept in connection with a sale he had conducted for him.

In one dated "Sept. 8th 1794" Dr. Turck said Washington wrote in detail concerning some legal difficulties had encountered in connection with a "Doctr. Savage," estate.

Dr. Turck said that the Lincoln note to the war veteran was typical of Lincoln's ability to say much in a few words. It read: "I do not know the bearer; but he says he has served in the war, is disabled and now wants employment—I shall be glad if he can get it. A Lincoln. Sep. 1, 1863."

Dr. Turck said a little glass case containing a lock of hair had been marked by Neill as a lock of President Lincoln's hair.

Edington and Cubs Tripped 2-1 in 10-Inning Marathon Tilt at Dayton

Marion's Ace Hurler Bows To Miller in Pitching Duel

Special to The Star

DAYTON, O., May 23—Al Miller bested Johnny Edington in a 10-inning mound duel as the Dayton Indians eked out a 2-1 victory over the Marion Cubs in a Ohio State league contest here last night before 1,008 fans.

Edington, who struck out seven batters and walked only two, was touched for his seventh hit in the 10th when Paul Smith, first man up, lashed a double to left, went to third while Jack Harsch bounced out, and scored on Marty Sebastian's line single to right.

The Indians picked up a 1-0 lead in the third for Miller, who yielded 10 hits but matched Edington's strikeout performance. With two away, Russ Adams punched out an infield hit and scored on Ken Paulus' booming double to left.

Marion bounced back in the seventh to knot the count at 1-all. Jim Forbes lined a sharp single to center and, after Mel Nelson flied out, skipped to second on Bob Meyers' single to short. Edington fanned. But Roy Hollingshead belted a single to left, scoring Forbes.

Of the Cubs' 10 hits, Mel Wiebel, Gene Bobzean, and Meyers made two each.

OSL Fielding Hits New Low As 25 Boots Mar Play

By The Associated Press

Fielding hit a new low in the Ohio State league last night. Maybe it was rain-induced rustiness, but the four games produced a total of 25 errors.

Muncie, Lima and Richmond, Ind., suffered lopsided defeats through fielding miscues. The league's one tight contest went to Dayton 2 to 1, over Marion after 10 innings.

Muncie erred eight times losing 10 to 6 to the Newark Browns, and Lima committed seven miscues in losing 19-4 to the Springfield Giants who slammed 15 hits, including pitcher Tony West's homer. Over at Richmond, Ind., the pace-setting Zanesville Dodgers hit with timeliness to bag a 9 to 4 victory helped by five Roses' errors.

The league's only other homer was by Jerry Kowalski, Lima's third baseman, in the second frame at Springfield.

MUD HINDERS CONSTRUCTION OF MIDGET AUTO TRACK. Workmen strive to complete construction of a midget auto race track in the Municipal Stadium in Cleveland, O. The stadium has been transformed into a quagmire by construction work on the track, which encircles the Cleveland Indians baseball playing field. American League President Will Harridge warned Bill Veeck, President of the Cleveland Indians, that their first night game of the season, scheduled for May 23, would be forfeited to the St. Louis Browns if the the Indians were unable to provide a suitable playing field. (Associated Press Wirephoto.)

FELLER ON HILL FOR TODAY'S NIGHT GAME

60,000 Fans Expected for Tilt in Race Track Mud.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, May 23 — It'll be the "Mighty Men of Mudville"—alias the Cleveland Indians—versus Muddy Ruel's St. Louis Browns when an expected 60,000 fans turn out tonight to view the first game played within the confines of Cleveland Stadium's now-famous midget auto race track.

Manager Lou Boudreau nominated strikeout artists, Bob Feller, for mound duty in an attempt to extend the Indians' three-game winning steak. Rookie Ellis Kinder will hurl for St. Louis.

Although scattered showers have been predicted for the area late today, Earl Hilligan, American league service bureau director, and Umpire-in-Chief Tom Connolly said they believed the surface of the new racing strip would be suitable for baseball.

Faced with a possible forfeit of the game, Tribe President Bill Veeck assigned Emil Bossard, famed groundkeeper, to supervise and Mayor Thomas A. Burke ordered 100 city workers to work last night leveling chemically treated sand over the slippery ring of track.

Asserting that he had not "moved an inch" from his decision to permit the "doodlebugs" three trial races in the stadium, Burke said contractors would resume work on the track next week, despite Veeck's opposition.

Despite all the fireworks of the past week, however, Veeck reported there would be a large display of rockets in ceremonies before the Tribe's first home night game.

RACING PROGRAM BEGINS

By The Associated Press

WESTBURY, N. Y., May 23—A 125-night harness racing program opens tonight at Roosevelt raceway, which begins its eighth season as a mecca for metropolitan trotting fans. A crowd of 20,000 is expected.

Power Service, Telephone And Commercial Wins Softball Tilts

Play in three Industrial league softball games yesterday was very close while the other tilt deviated from the plan.

Pollak and General Excavator went seven innings to a 9 to 9 tie, Ohio Power Service rallied in the last half of the last inning to beat McMillen 8 to 7, Osgood nosed Ohio Associated Telephone 5 to 6, and Commercial Steel racked up an 8 to 0 victory over Quaker Oats.

The Pollak-General Excavator game was called because of darkness and no announcement as to when it will be played has been made.

O. P. S. bunched hits by Iams, Merchant, Conkle, and Butterman to gain their victory.

The O. A. T.-Osgood game was a slam bang affair as Ferriman of Osgood singled in the last of the seventh, F. Lashey tripled, and came home after Williamson flied out to center field.

In the other game yesterday shutout pitcher Aldrich whiffed six batters in allowing only two hits and teammate Frank helped things along with a roundtripper.

3 Cub Players Pruned From Marion's Roster

With the deadline for the final cutdown drawing near three more players have been slashed from the Cub roster. Big Jim Regula and Winston Brendell, pitchers, and Vito Tutera, shortstop were the latest to be dropped.

Regula has been sent to another team in the Chicago Cub farm system which has the same classification as Marion.

Johnny Smith, Marion third baseman in 1944, is expected to report back here soon.

Bannerline Battle On WMRN Tonight

Activity on the maul market tonight centers around light-heavyweight champion Gus Lesnevich (above) of New Jersey and Melio Bettina, former titleholder who hails from Beacon, N. Y. They clash for ten rounds at Madison Square Garden.

Bettina is a squat southpaw, solidly built. Being low to the ground makes him hard to hit. Melio has enjoyed marked success since becoming a heavyweight and hopes to get closer to a title shot with the Brown Bomber by vanquishing Gus.

Lesnevich has successfully defended his title twice since his Coast Guard discharge. He chloroformed the British Empire champ and also kayoed Billy Fox. Gus knows how to jab, how to hook and, like the Beaconite, packs a hefty wallop.

Enjoy the excitement, blow-by-blow, on Gillette's Cavalcade of Sports over American Broadcasting Co. and WMRN (1490 on your dial) at 10 p. m.

And remember, men . . . LOOK sharp! FEEL sharp! BE sharp! Use Gillette Blue Blades with the sharpest edges ever honed!

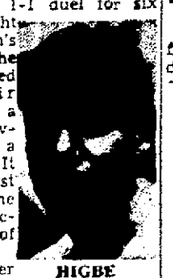
Kirby Higbe's Slip Making Branch Rickey Look Good

By The Associated Press

Kirby Higbe is making Branch Rickey look good. While the Dodger mahatma eyes a $200,000 deposit in a Brooklyn Trust Company, Pittsburgh still scans the skies for old Hig's first Pirate victory.

The pride of Columbia, S. C., has made four starts since he was bundled up with four other Dodgers and sold to Pittsburgh. A tie-game against St. Louis is his best showing.

Hig and Howie Pollet hooked up in a tight 1-1 duel for six innings last night at Sportsman's park until the Cards unloaded four of their eight hits in a three-run seventh inning for a 4-1 decision. It was Pollet's first home win of the year and his second success of the season.



HIGBE

Card Manager Eddie Dyer showed signs of the cellar strain in an argument with umpire Art Gore. Dyer thought Whitey Kurowski was safe at first in a close decision by Gore in the sixth inning. He said his piece so loudly with so many gestures that Gore banished him, the first time mild-mannered Eddie had been thumbed out this season.

The St. Louis night game, witnessed by 14,035 fans, was the only game played in the majors. No other clubs were scheduled in the National and three scheduled games in the American were rained out, Detroit at New York, Cleveland at Boston and Chicago at Philadelphia.

Rev. Stephen Badin was the first Roman Catholic priest ordained in the United States.

BUCYRUS TRAP SHOOT

BUCYRUS, May 23—The second registered trap shoot for the Bucyrus Gun club is scheduled to be held at the club Sunday afternoon, weather permitting. Approximately 100 shooters from all sections of the state are expected to be present. More than 100 were present for the first shoot April 27. The main event will be the 100 bird event at 16 yards with a handicap of 50 birds also being on the program.

AA Head Big Shot In Baseball But Flub To Daughter

By FRITZ HOWELL
Ohio AP Sports Editor

COLUMBUS, O., May 23 — Frank Charles Lane, well-muscled and highly-voluble president of the American association, may be a big guy in baseball but he's a disappointment to his eight-year-old daughter, Nadi.

When the former farm chief of the Cincinnati Reds and New York Yankees was voted into the top spot of the triple-A loop, he called his wife in St. Petersburg, Fla., and told her:

"We're changing jobs again, Selma. I'm going to the president of the American association."

A minute later Nadi was on the phone with:

"Hello, Daddy, Mamma says you're going to be president."

"Yes, president of a baseball league," Daddy answered.

"Ah, shoot," said Nadi. "I thought she meant president of the United States."

GALION SCHOOL NEEDS STUDIED

Board Considers Steps Toward Building Expansion Program.

Special to The Star

GALION, May 23—Over-crowded and physicial condition of schools in Galion has led the Galion board of education to consider a building program this fall. At a special meeting of the board, Thursday night, it was planned to have an architect present for an interview at the next regular board meeting, Thursday night, June 5.

No action was taken by the board with reference to teachers' contracts, since the legislature is still working on the school bill.

With a report on hand by Fred Zoller, commander of the American Legion, that sufficient funds have been collected to guarantee the supervised playground program at Heise park this summer, the board employed Miss Rose Seifert, girls' physical education director for the girls' program at the park, and E. M. Hixson, assistant coach, to supervise the boys' play. The playground schedule will be the same as last year, Monday through Friday with hours 9 a. m. to 4:30 p. m., beginning Monday, June 2.

The board also had on hand a letter from the state fire marshal of a recent inspection made by Gayle H. Owens of Marion, assistant to the marshal. This called attention to the fact that the steps inside the South building which lead to the basement on the south side are unsafe. The report recommended that all locks and slide bolts to exit doors should be removed at the South, Junior High and North school buildings and that they be replaced with panic locks. At the latter two buildings, it was recommended that exit doors be repaired where needed.

The board accepted with regret the resignation of B. W. Myers, former principal of the South Elementary school. Mr. Myers, now living in Tucson, Arizona, was on a year's leave of absence because of his health, but has not made sufficient recovery to resume his work in the Galion schools.

Permission to have bi-weekly dances at the Senior High gymnasium during the summer was granted to the Galion Youth Center.

Herbert Says Teachers Sought Too Much Money

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., May 23—"School interests" asked too much in seeking $100,000,000 annually in the original version of the Daniels-Cramer bill, Gov. Thomas J. Herbert told the League of Ohio Women Voters during a convention banquet last night.

"If the first bill brought to the senate had called for $83,000,000, I do not think there would be a teacher in the state today who would feel he had been ill treated," Herbert said.

The league elected Mrs. Frank Shaw of Oberlin president to succeed Mrs. Charles Bang of Cleveland.

The discovery of insulin revolutionized the treatment of diabetes.

Entire Change Of Blood Saves Life Of Springfield Woman

By The Associated Press

SPRINGFIELD, O., May 23—A complete change of blood by transfusion was credited by physicians here today with saving the life of a 20-year-old mother who lost in childbirth much more of her normal negative RH type blood than could be replaced from the hospital's limited supply.

The case, described by Dr. Mary P. Hunter, chief pathologist at Springfield city hospital, began last April 21 following a Caesarian operation for Mrs. Florence McConnehea.

When hemorrhages began following delivery of a son, the hospital's limited supply of negative RH blood was quickly exhausted. The patient hovered near death until Dr. H. B. Elliott, Springfield surgeon, and her family physician, Dr. Noama Green, decided to use the common—but opposite—positive RH blood.

Introducing four pints at a time through arm and leg veins, the doctors gave the patient 18 pints during a four-hour period. The normal body blood content is 11 pints.

Another four pints were given Mrs. McConnehea during the night.

After two weeks, the patient's body resumed production of its natural negative RH blood, destroying the positive type and causing her to become jaundiced and in danger of death from uremia.

In many previous cases, Dr. Hunter said, unnatural blood types caused kidneys to clog when introduced to the body and death resulted. However, she explained, in the McConnehea case, six tubes were inserted to alternately feed and flush the system, carrying off poisonous and destroyed positive blood cells until the uremia threat decreased.

RECESS NO VACATION FOR 17TH OHIO SOLON

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 23 — Rep. J. Harry McGregor of West Lafayette says congress' summer recess won't mean any vacation for him, that he's going straight home to find out what the people in his typically midwestern 14th Ohio district are thinking.

"I like to act in congress the way my constituents think," said the contractor turned legislator.

When he came to congress McGregor started planning to keep up with the views of the voters—all the way from the blacksmith's shop to the highest professions.

His first step was an annual questionnaire. He has been doing that regularly every 12 months. He gets from 1,500 to 2,000 answers.

This year — just as soon as congress takes an official recess—McGregor plans to "make myself available" in all the six counties of his district: Ashland, Richland, Knox, Delaware, Licking and Coshocton.

McGregor's schedule:

Aug. 4 and 5, Ashland; Aug. 6 and 7 Mansfield; Aug. 8 and 9, Delaware; Aug. 13 and 14, Newark; Aug. 15 and 16, Coshocton, Mt. Vernon; Aug. 11 and 12,

Cleveland To Appeal $100,000 Court Award

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, May 23—Counsel for the Cleveland Transit system today planned to appeal a common pleas court jury verdict awarding $100,000 to 32-year-old George Lentz for injuries received Jan. 6, 1944, when a trolley car collided with a truck in which he was riding.

A jury of nine women and three men yesterday decided upon the largest personal injury settlement in Cleveland court history, for the fatal award, reportedly the largest of two small sons.

RECOVERIES PERSIST IN TIMID MARKET

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, May 23—Individual recoveries persisted in today's stock market but bidding was exceptionally timid and assorted leaders dozed in moderately lower territory.

Dealings reverted to sluggishness after a fairly active opening. Areas most of the time were U. S. Steel, Chrysler, Montgomery Ward, International Harvester, Caterpillar Tractor, Sperry, American Telephone, Santa Fe, N. Y. Central, Chesapeake and Ohio, Norfolk and Western, Northern Pacific, Engineers Public Service, Anaconda, Kennecott, American Smelting, Westinghouse, American Can, Johns-Manville, Sun Oil, Texas Pacific Land Trust and Schenley. Aided by steering dividends were General Refractories, Inspiration Copper, Spalding and National Supply.

Inclined to falter occasionally were Homestake Mining, Standard Oil (NJ), Southern Railway, Goodyear, Goodrich, Oliver Corp., Douglas Aircraft, North American, Woolworth and Phelps Dodge.

Young Army Stockade Escapee Captured Here

A 17-year-old Marion boy was picked up by city police on Kenton avenue early this morning after they had received a report from Fort Hayes, Columbus that he had escaped from the army stockade there and was believed headed for Marion. A later report stated that a car had been stolen from near the scene of the escape soon after the boy had disappeared.

When he was picked up he directed the police to a filling station on the corner of Silver street and Kenton avenue where the car was parked.

He was returned to military authorities earlier in the month by city police. He was wanted for absence without leave. He is being held for the provost marshal at Fort Hayes.

Permanent Removal of Hair — By Electrolysis
Superfluous hair, not only causes great unhappiness, but also may directly bring about a deep inferiority complex. No woman can appear at her best if this distress is allowed to persist, for, regardless of how adept she is at applying make-up, all cosmetics, no matter how skillfully applied are useless in covering this type of blemish, in fact, cosmetics have a tendency to over-emphasize this condition.
Electrolysis Is the Only Method Endorsed by Physicians
Around 200 to 300 hairs can be removed in an hour, the charge is $5 per hour. Why not get an appointment for consultation, it will cost you absolutely nothing, and know the joy that comes from a face free from hair. Face the world with confidence, and take your place in society and in the business world once your face is free from hair.
Special rates for arms and legs. All appointments by letter. Electrolysis has no effect on the skin, no aftermarks.

LOVE'S PERILOUS PATH

By ADELE GARRISON

"I'M sure," I told Mary, "that Aunt Katharine will let you have something to quench your thirst as soon—"

"As soon as she flourishes her clinical thermometer around and then sticks it between my ruby lips,' she gibed

'Exactly, I told her "And speaking of—"

'The devil, or angels?" Katharine said coming through the door which she had opened directly after knocking

Paid No Attention

"Take your choice," I told her, but she was advancing to the bed, paying no attention to me

"Lo Mary!" she said "Can you stand me around for awhile?"

"Can I ever!" Mary said, reaching out her arms to Katharine, who hugged her warmly

"What about an old uncle?" Dicky said from the doorway "May he kiss a lovely niece before he goes away to pound his old ear?"

"If you don't take too long" I told him 'Mary's going to have a busy time for the next few minutes"

"I'll only take half a minute," Dicky said, and kept his word He kissed Mary tenderly, admonished her to 'keep the old chin up,' as he has told her since childhood, and with a wave at me, went awry

"I want you to take over," I told Katharine, who looked most professional in her crisp uniform and cap "Dr Twitchell will be along soon, but Mary says she is thirsty I didn't give her a drink even of water, for I thought you might want to take her temperature first"

'You 'done right by our Nell!'" Katharine assured me light, "I'll be back in a minute"

She went into the bathroom, returning almost at once, thermometer in hand

When she took it from Mary's mouth, she smiled encouragingly at her patient

"Less than half a degree," she told her 'I'm sure Dr Twitchell would say you not only could have something to drink but something to eat What would you like?"

'I'd like a big beaker of cold—Oh, so cold'—grapefruit juice, Mary said

"Fresh or canned?" Katharine asked 'Or, what have you, Madge"

'Both," I said

'Then fresh,' Mary said 'But do I have to eat?"

"Not until after Dr Twitchell comes" Katharine decided promptly "Sure you won't nibble a cracker with your grapefruit juice?'

"I might do that," Mary agreed, adding saucily, "If it will make you and Auntie Madge feel any better"

"It probably will save our lives," Katharine assured her gravely 'I hope you have crackers, Madge If you haven't, there are some over in my apartment, that came up with our dinner last night I saved the ones I didn't use—for future nibbling"

'Fortunately I have some on hand, I told her, and Mary smiled at me

'Did you ever know Auntie Madge to be out of anything?" she asked

'Never, Katharine replied, and I hurried to the doorway

"I'll fix the grapefruit juice at once,"I said and rushed to the screened corner of the sitting room where I keep my supplies

I squeezed the grapefruit juice added ice and put some crackers on a plate beside the glass of juice which I had set on a tray

Then I carried them back to Mary's side, hearing her say as I entered 'I'm an awful mess, Aunt Katharine'

"Aren't we all?" Katharine countered cheerily, and then greeted me in the same tone

"Ah, there Hebe!" she exclaimed 'That looks most appetizing!"

Nibbled A Cracker

"Trust Auntie Madge' Mary said and as Katharine held out the glass of juice to her she drained it greedily Then she nibbled a cracker, and lay back on her pillow

'Now I'm ready for execution,' she announced

"That isn't particularly complimentary to Dr Twitchell," Katharine said

"Which reminds me" I told them, "I had better go into the sitting room and wait for the good doctor I'll take the tray back with me"

'Can't you hear the knocker from here?" Mary asked and I instantly answered her in the affirmative, for I had seen the plea in her eyes

"Of course I can, dearest," I said, and the next instant the knocker sounded
